

SHE'S GOING TO WRITE ABOUT THE PERSONALITY OF FIVE BASEBALL HEROES

Idah McGlone Gibson.

You know who "Muggsy" McGraw, "Jake" Stahl, Joe Wood, Christy Mathewson and "Jeff" Tesreau are, and you know all about their baseball records, perhaps.

But do you know anything about the PERSONALITY of these men who will win or lose the world's baseball championship?

Idah McGlone Gibson of The Day Book staff, and one of the best known writers in American newspaperdom, is going to tell Day Book readers all about the personal side of these men.

She saw Stahl and his star pitcher, Joe Wood, in Boston, and then journeyed to New York to get acquainted with the scrappy McGraw, the superb Mathewson, and the farmer boy Tesreau.

Her stories will show these men in a new light—as a woman sees a popular hero.

The first will be, "McGraw," as seen by Idah McGlone Gibson, and will appear in The Day Book Thursday. Watch for it.

—o—o—
"I can't help thinking about myself."

"That's the human instinct—to worry over trifles."